

Action Item Summary

#	Date	Action	Status	Comments
1	March 5, 2008	The IESO to include a comparison chart of linked wheel assessments and scheduling treatments in the NY, PJM and MISO areas for consideration in the Long Term Solution	OPEN	Reached an understanding of how PJM and MISO treat linked wheel transactions. Looking at the justification of the costs of economic dispatch of linked wheels.
2	March 5, 2008	The IESO will continue to work with NYISO on tool requirements in order to implement option #2.	OPEN	Ongoing
3	March 5, 2008	The IESO will work on a discussion paper related to counter intuitive failure charges with a focuses on historical pre-dispatch and real-time pricing data.	OPEN	Data collection and discussion paper are underway.
4	June 3, 2008	IJT participants to review the Linked Wheel Long Term Solution presentation and attached document and respond with their comments by the end of the month to Dave Robitaille. Following this the IESO is to take this information to the Technical Panel on the participants' behalf.	CLOSED	No comments received.
5	June 3, 2008	Analysis on the potential of using the following as criteria for MACD to review failure charges. 1. Export failure charges when the IESO is curtailing in the same hour for adequacy or security (on the same interface) 2. A loss of a generator and real-time price decreasing 3. A generation gain and real-time price increasing	OPEN
6	June 3, 2008	The IESO is to send out a draft of the option to make transactions recallable on an economic basis with a bias away from the New York interface at the 30 minute checkout is to be sent to the members of the committee for their review and comments.	CLOSED	Since the last IJTSC meeting, MISO has ceased in accepting recallable transactions. As such the IESO will continue to look at other options.
7	June 3, 2008	The IESO will cease the acceptance of OR from PJM until this issue is resolved.	CLOSED	The IESO is no longer accepting OR sourced from PJM
8	June 3, 2008	IESO to send out a communication to all traders with a reminder of all questions that were posed in the Day Ahead Market Evolution presentation and direction as to where to send their responses.	CLOSED	